

Byron Carr

Byron has gone above and beyond by always being willing to reach out to teams to get clients connected to other supportive services. He has been known to walk with clients to other buildings and spend extra time explaining what Mind Springs has to offer them. Byron recently stayed with a suicidal client and engaged them until crisis stepped in, keeping them safe and alive and out of the hospital. He eagerly takes the role of ambassador when we have new staff. Thank you, Byron, for taking the reins and creating a safe space for people who are struggling and looking to move forward in their recovery!
